THE CHARACTER OF THE TRAMP.

Rock county is now having its share of the tramps. Within the past week several hundred have been in the county. A proclamation drove them out of Iowa, and they boarded trains congregated at Beloit. From that point they scattered. Some went North, a considerable number East, a few struck westward, and twenty-five or thirty were brought to Janesville in a style which would do any man honor. They are now in jail, where they would rather be than in the harvest field or anywhere else where they would be compelled to work full hours each day.

A solution of the tramp question is not an easy thing. They are in every part of the country. They are in organized bands, and more than half of them don't want to work, and won't work unless they are compelled to do so with a ball and chain. As general rule the tramps in the West are shiftless, lazy, or in other words, professional dead beats. They prefer to tramp the country, beg a living, steal rides on railways, rather than work for farmers even when fair wages are offered them. They are becoming as thoroughly organized here as they were in Massachusetts, where they have had officers, past-masters, signs, and grips. They would not work there and will not work in the West if they can avoid it. These are the men for whom Sam Cary, the champion Greenbacker, has so much sympathy, and whom he advises to rob rather than accept the charity of soup houses in the large cities.

We have evidence in Rock county that the tramps have no disposition to labor for the bread they eat. Scores have been promptly refused to be employed by the farmers. Thousand of bushels of cherries have gone to waste in Northern Illinois and Southern Wisconsin, because hands could not be employed to pick them. One gentleman near New Wood, owns a thousand trees which were loaded with cherries, and he has gathered hardly more than half of them because willing hands could not be got. The next question is, What can the authorities or legislation do to rid the country of this class of lazy, worthless, and dangerous tramps?

GOOD FOR THE JEWS.

The meeting of the American-Hebrew Union adjourned in Milwaukee on Friday, and will meet in New York next year. The Convention has been a very interesting one, and we may say a very practical one. There was one subject brought up for discussion which commands special notice and deserves the highest praise. There is quite a large number of Jewish orphans in their asylums. What to do with them was the question discussed. They set to work at the problem like a practical set of people, and finally concluded to procure government lands in the Western or Southern States on which to settle the children being brought up in their asylums, and also these of their people who have no means with which to establish themselves in business. These are righteous steps, and will no doubt succeed in securing good and permanent homes to that class which is thrown upon the world without friends or money.

The view taken by the New York Herald on the subject is a very sensible one, and will serve as food for reflection for the Butler class of demagogues: "There is something eminently practical and wise in this plan adopted by the Milwaukee Convention of Jews, and we hope it will be carried out successfully. General Butler wishes to issue four hundred millions of greenbacks to give the poor who will remove to the public lands. Mr. Hendrick B. Wright, of Pennsylvania, asked the last Congress to appropriate half a million for the same purpose. But those statesmen are put to shame by the determination of the Jewish Convention to do that for their co-religionists by private enterprise which Messrs Butler and Wright wish to do at the general expense. Why should not other religious bodies follow the example of these Hebrews and help their indigent members to homes or land? A general movement to this end among the Christian churches would be of the most beneficent and practical forms which public charity could take."

THE ORANGEMEN.

The Battle of the Boyne was not fought over again in the streets of Montreal on Friday. A terrible conflict was expected. The Orangemen were determined to flout their banners and march through the streets, while on the other hand the more ignorant and hot-headed of the Irish Catholics were equally determined to prevent them. The authorities saw that riot and bloodshed were inevitable; the Orangemen insisted in making a public demonstration. The Catholic Church appealed to the better judgment of its members, for the sake of peace, to pay no attention to the parade of the Orangemen; and the more considerate of the Protestant Irish endeavored to influence the more impetuous of the Orangemen to spite their enemies by not walking and thus cheat them out of a fight. They deem prudence the better part of valor, voted not to walk and thus heaped coals of fire upon the heads of the Irish Catholics. The latter were aching for a general fight, and expected to have a regular good time of it, but common sense among the Orange men broke up the programme. Had they carried out their first determination to publicly parade, the result would doubtless have been appalling.

The military preparations at Montreal were of a formidable character. Over thirty thousand troops, two batteries of artillery, fifty thousand rounds of cartridges, and a Lieutenant-General to command, made

The Arrest of the Orange Leaders. The Mayor Satisfied with the Working of his Plans.

MONTREAL, July 12-4 p. m.—D. Grant, County Master, and John Hamilton, County Secretary of the Orange Association were arrested. They went quietly to the police station. The other Orangemen who entered the lodge remain there for Grant's return, when consultation will be held. The Mayor will arrest every man as he comes out of the lodge unless they express their intention of returning home. Mayor Beaudry has occupied a seat all the morning on St. James street, directly opposite Orange hall, where he can conveniently direct the movements of the constabulary. He appears to be satisfied and pleased that his plans are being so successfully worked out, and is resolved to continue as heretofore. With regard to the Orangemen who have been arrested he stated that object was to make their trial test case to settle once for all the question of the legality of the Orange Association and procession. He expressed the hope that the excitement would quiet down speedily, and said it was intended, as soon as the fear of disturbance today was removed to liberate the incarcerated Orangemen on bail. The wives and friends of the Orangemen throughout the city are in a state of anxiety about their safety.

Mon. John L. Mitchell Succumbs to the Snare of the Boyish Archer.
New York, July 12.—The marriage has been announced of ex-State Senator John L. Mitchell, of Wisconsin, to Miss Hattie D. Becker, a daughter of the late Abraham Becker, at her father's house, South Worcester, Oregon county, the couple to spend a few weeks at Long Branch before making a two years' tour in Europe. The groom is a young man of 35, the only son and child of Alexander Mitchell, of Milwaukee, President of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad. His son was educated at Oxford University. Mrs. Alexander Mitchell is stopping at Long Branch. Some two years ago, while traveling in Europe, she met Miss Becker, who was being educated in France, and a friendship sprang up between them. Miss Becker visited the Mitchells at their winter residence near Jacksonville, Florida, and here she met John Mitchell. The engagement has been known to the two families for some time, but has been kept entirely private. Mr. John Mitchell's name was prominently before the public a year ago in connection with legal proceedings between himself and his first wife, who was a daughter of Senator Carpenter's former law partner. They were married in 1855, but lived unhappily during the latter years, each charging the other with habitual intemperance, and in July 1877, Mrs. Mitchell left her husband's house at his instance. He retained the only child remaining of the union which she had borne, a boy of 2 years, and transferred him to the care of Alexander Mitchell.

BRIEFLETS.

—Pull off your feet.
—The weather ought not to be blamed. It can't help it.

—There was no trot at the Driving Park this afternoon, the proposed contestants not coming to time.

—The sweet song of "I scream for the benefit of the church" is now heard at the festivals and picnics.

—Rev. L. N. Wheeler will spend the Sabbath in Geneva, and will take a two-week vacation at Lake Bluff.

—We were shown to-day a fine sample of wheat from the farm of M. E. Dailey, in the First Ward. It is most excellent.

—The new bill-board next to the postoffice has been graced by a large lettered announcement of the Temple of Honor excursion.

—In the Circuit Court to-day the Tyrell-Borden case was argued, but no decision reached. A number of divorce cases were called up next.

—The rise of water has caused some trouble at the Fulton dam, and a large number of men and teams are engaged in putting it in shape so that it will not wash away.

—Mr. C. C. Bowdler, formerly of the Evening Wisconsin and the Milwaukee Sentinel, called upon us to-day. He is the advance agent of Dr. R. Philegen, the lecturer.

—Miss Ada Pond has been engaged as the organist for the Baptist church. The selection is an excellent one, as she is an accomplished musician, and well fitted in all respects for the position.

—Miss Mary Thomas, the child pedestrian, enters on her twenty-five mile walk at 5 o'clock this afternoon at Lapping's hall and will try to finish by 11 o'clock to-night. There is little doubt but what she will perform the task as she has already made better time than that in practice.

—The Temple of Honor at its meeting last night elected Mr. B. F. Crockett to the Committee of Arrangements for the excursion. Word was received that another excursion was being arranged from Jefferson, Fort Atkinson and Milton Junction to join the one here.

—The colored girl who wielded the umbrella with such a success at the close of the entertainment the other evening denied that it was any mere slight which called forth her wrath, but says she was slapped in the face, bit on the arm, and otherwise abused so that she was obliged to defend herself as best she could.

—Dr. R. Philegen, A. M., will lecture at Lapping's hall next Tuesday evening on "Quack Doctors." He is said to have created a great sensation by his fearless exposures of quackeries. His lecture is said to be full of wit and humor, besides being highly instructive and full of merit. It will doubtless be worth hearing.

—The arrangements have been completed for the picnic to be given by the Bower City Band at Bub's grove next Tuesday afternoon and evening. They will march from their hall to the boat in full uniform. The first boat will leave at 1 o'clock, making hourly trips thereafter. Concerts will be given alternate hours the last being between the hours of 7 and 8 after which dancing will commence and continue until 11 o'clock. The fare for the round trip on the Bower City Belle, including admittance to the grounds, will be 25 cents. No beer sold, but plenty of wholesome refreshments.

—Dr. S. S. Judd received a telegram yesterday announcing the death of Warren Young, the oldest clerk in the Pension Office at Washington, being seventy-four years old. Mr. Young was a member of the legal profession and was always a firm Republican, being associated in years gone by with Wade and Giddings in support of the former abolition party. In latter years he was the firm friend of J. D. Cox and Garfield, both all representing the same district in Ohio. Mr. Young formerly served twenty-six years as Sheriff and Clerk of Trumbull county, Ohio, and was always held in high esteem for his honor and uprightness in every relation of life. He was the grandfather of William H. and Clara A. Judd of this city, and his death will bring sorrow to a large circle of friends.

—The following colloquy occurred on one of our streets a few days since between the pastor of one of our city churches and a new member:

Pastor—"We are endeavoring to raise sufficient money to cancel our church debt. I trust that you will become a pillar of the church and aid us by contributing liberally toward that object."

New member—"Pillars in churches are essential, but under the circumstances I would prefer to be a shingle."

Pastor—"Think the matter over and drop me a postal card."

New member—"I would rather drop something else."

Pastor—"What is that?"

New member—"I would prefer to drop the subject."

The pastor had his head shingled.

THE COAL BIDDERS.

In accordance with an arrangement entered into by the School Board, the Trustees of the Institution for the Blind, and County Clerk Morgan, who is also County Agent, the bids for coal for these different purposes were received to-day up to 2 o'clock at which time they were opened. The bidders were Carpenter & Gowdy, Lawrence & Atwood, Hogaboom & Atwood, Buggs Brothers, and R. P. Elmore & Co., of Milwaukee. The contract for furnishing 175 tons for the schools was given Hogaboom & Atwood; that for furnishing 50 tons to the county was given also to Hogaboom & Atwood. That for furnishing 375 tons to the Institution for the Blind was awarded to Lawrence & Atwood.

BAD BURGLARS.

One of them Shot Last Night—He has However Escaped Capture—A Live! Night Scene.

Shortly after 2 o'clock this morning, George H. Horgan, who occupies the house just south of Mrs. Conrad's on Main street, was awakened by some one prowling about the rooms. He jumped out of bed and a man made for the back door which was open, and which was about seven feet from the ground. He jumped out onto a wooden awning which was just over the basement door, and the awning giving way he fell with it to the ground, a distance of a few feet. He at once reached behind him and drawing his revolver pointed it at Horgan who had reached the door, and the latter jumped back and reached for his revolver which was in a bureau drawer. By the time he reached the door again with his revolver, the burglar had started across the back yard, but Horgan got a shot at him before he could get out the gate. The burglar returned the fire and Horgan having no more charges in his revolver was unable to follow him up and he consequently escaped. It is thought though, that Horgan's shot hit him, for shortly afterwards two men passed in front of Mr. Charles Penniman's residence which is next to Horgan's, and as they reached the gate, one fell down. The other grabbed him around the waist, and helped him off, the one proceeding south on Main street. The one thus helping his fellow along, cautioned him not to make any noise, and kept talking to him in a low voice. Mr. Penniman had heard the shots and went to the window and saw the men on the sidewalk, but thought that they were some drunken fellows who had fired off a revolver in pure devilry, a similar occurrence having happened near there some time ago, when two drunken men had been going along, and one was so crazy full as to think it was fun to shoot into the air. Mr. Penniman noticed the time of night, and this morning found, to his astonishment, that it agreed with the time when Horgan and the burglar exchanged shots, which is a strong indication that the burglar was really hit, and his companion was getting him off.

It appears that the burglar entered through the back gate of the yard, and evidently intended to enter Mrs. Conrad's house which is in the same yard, the awning both houses. Noticing that Horgan's back door was open, he deemed that an easy chance, and getting a step-ladder from Mrs. Conrad's house, he placed it against Horgan's house, and thus climbed up to the door. He went into the house, and by using matches, got enough light to help him in his prowling. He secured one of Mrs. Horgan's dresses, a pair of Mr. Horgan's trousers, and some handkerchiefs, and was probably in the act of leaving when discovered. He managed to take his plunder with him, though he left his hat in the yard and also left a handkerchief which he tied around the step-ladder to keep it from making any noise. The awning upon which he jumped in escaping, was an old door arranged on hinges so as to shade the basement door, and was of course very frailly hung. It is possible that when he fell with this awning that he was hurt, but the quickness with which he recovered himself, drew his revolver, and ran into the yard, and the slowness and difficulty with which he afterwards went along, indicates that the injury must have been from the bullet, instead of the fall. The matches which were found half-burnt in the sitting-room, were of a peculiar make. Aside from these facts there seems to be no traces yet discovered by which to identify the fellow, who was thus prowling about.

THE WEATHER.

The thermometer at 7 o'clock this morning stood at 75 degrees above and at 2 o'clock at 91 degrees above. Clear. One year ago to-day at corresponding hours the thermometer stood at 62 and 85 degrees above.

The indications to-day are, for the lake region, partly cloudy weather, occasional showers, variable winds, stationary or higher pressure and temperature.

THE WATER WORKS.

The special committee of the Council appointed to confer with the Janesville Hydraulic Company, met representatives of that company last evening, and it is understood that the company made a proposition embodying the features of the report of the previous committee, which it accepted with future waterworks at once.

A CHILDREN'S PARTY.

There was a very pleasant gathering of little folks at the residence of Senator Ham Richardson, yesterday afternoon, it being in honor of Miss Carrie Robinson, daughter of Mrs. General Robinson, who is visiting in the city. The children were furnished with plenty of good music, with an abundance of edibles, and with games and pastimes the hours sped with light feet. The occasion was thoroughly enjoyed by all who participated.

STATE MILITIA.

All those interested in the organization of a military company in this city are requested to meet at the Common Council rooms a 8 o'clock p. m., this evening.

EXCURSION OF TRAMPS.

Twenty-Five Men Hunting for Work, Came to Janesville in Carriages and Put up at the Hotel de Colley.

There was a fine procession of tramps which arrived in the city last evening, having been sent hither from Beloit, and being twenty-five in number. They rode to the city in style, there being one carryall drawn by a four-horse team, and three double seated buggies. They were neither ironed nor closely watched and yet none showed any disposition to escape. On reaching the jail, where they were to be confined, they coolly inspected the grounds, and took a look at their new lodging house, which seemed to satisfy them in most respects. They then allowed themselves to be locked up. The only thing lacking to make the excursion completely enjoyable, was a brass band, which by some oversight the Beloiters failed to furnish them. The only wonder is that they were not feted at some first-class hotel. The terms for which they have been sentenced vary from five to thirty days. This morning six of the party went into the gravel pit to work, and this afternoon six others took their places. As only about this number can be worked at a time, there will probably be some difficulty in furnishing them enough exercise to keep them healthy. They will doubtless enjoy their stay here greatly under these circumstances. These twenty-five tramps form a portion of the party which has been hanging about the State line near Beloit. There was no difficulty in capturing them and none were found armed. To those who have such a sympathy for tramps and who are always prating about it being no sin to be hunting for work, it may be of interest to know that Sheriff Colley has secured work at various times for some of these fellows, and in no case would they go to work. Later in six different cases the Sheriff secured work on farms for some of the tramps placed in his care. They each promised to go to work as soon as their time was out, but in each and every case, when the day arrived upon which they were to commence work as free men with good wages they absolutely refused to do so. Day before yesterday a tramp was released from jail, his time being up. The Sheriff had procured work for him at good wages, on a farm ten miles from Janesville, and the fellow had promised to take the job, but when the day came, the farmer came in ten miles to get the man, but he stubbornly refused to go, preferring to tramp it to some other place. These instances are not exceptional cases. Hardly a day passes without one or more farmers being in the city seeking for men to help them, and yet these tramps complain that they can find no work. It is estimated that this batch just sentenced from Beloit, will cost the county for constables' and justices' fees, and for jailors' bills &c, from $5 to $10 apiece. To-day the citizens generally are discussing the pros and cons, and each has a pet theory of his own as to what it is best to do about this growing nuisance. Considerable excitement prevailed on the streets last evening on the arrival of these tramps, and considerable indignation was shown because these guests of the county were not received in such style as would be consistent with the luxurious send-off given them by Beloit.

THE FONDA SHOOTING.

Mr. Fonda who was shot by Constable Shimeal, a full account of which was given in yesterday's Gazette, is getting along quite comfortably to-day. The ball has been taken out and the doctors think he will recover rapidly unless inflammation sets in. He denies that he was trying to escape, but says that he had heard that a warrant was out against him, and he was going to come to Janesville to answer to the charge. He had heard that Shimeal proposed to hand-cuff him and load him into a wagon, and he preferred to come in of his own accord and with his own team. He claims that he was about to do so when he met his son, and was informed that Shimeal was not going to Janesville that day. He started back across lots to the house again, when he suddenly met Shimeal. He also claims that Shimeal fired upon him without giving him any notice, and denies that he drew any revolver on Shimeal, though he had one in his pocket. He also asserts that there has been a feud for some time between him and Shimeal, and that this was the cause for the warrant, and the assault took place last September, the boy who complains being under the guardianship of Shimeal. He also asserts that Shimeal abused his family when he came to the house hunting for him. Mr. J. H. Burke, the son-in-law of Mr. Fonda, was in the city to-day seeking legal advice, and these points were the chief ones he presents upon his side of the story of the shooting.

A BAD CASE.

Percy Bonesteel, a five-year-old son of William H. Bonesteel, met with a serious accident this morning. He was flying his kite, and had in one hand an open jack-knife, when by some mischance he fell, and the knife-blade pierced his right wrist, causing a wound about one and a half inches long, severing the tendons, muscle, and the large artery, and causing a terrible gash and flow of blood. Dr. Judd was immediately summoned, and with the assistance of Dr. Cliftenden took up the severed artery and dressed the wound. The little fellow was subjected to chloroform, it requiring three hours to properly dress the wound, it being necessary to lay open the arm almost to the bone in order to take up the artery. It is thought he will recover rapidly however.

TWO HORSES DROWNED.

Last Thursday afternoon Mr. William Wikles, who lives near Turleville, was driving through the creek just below Bennett's bridge, when the horses got into some hole and were drowned. Wikles floated down stream on the wagon box and a man who was with him floated on a barrel. Both men got pretty badly wet but finally reached shore in safety. The team was a good one, and the loss is quite a heavy one. The place where the horses were drowned has been used as a ford for some time, the bridge being out of repair. The water has risen considerably on account of the heavy rains lately, which probably accounted largely for the accident.

Beyond the Reach of Human Skill.

Is the power to restore the hair to bald heads when the bulbs at the roots are destroyed by age or disease; but there are doubtless many persons becoming bald, whose hair by careful attention might be restored to its original luxuriance and beauty. Parker's Hair Balsam is an elegant preparation, designed to meet the public want for a harmless hair dressing and restorative. It acts like magic, commencing at the very roots, removes dandruff and all humors from the scalp, and never fails to restore gray or faded hair to the original color, and the soft, rich and glossy appearance of youth. By its occasional use falling of the hair is immediately checked, and a luxuriant and beautiful growth of young hair induced. The exquisite perfume and the purity of its composition are highly appreciated, and as it is not a dye and does not stain the skin or clothing, it is a growing favorite of the toilet table everywhere. Buy a bottle from your druggist A. J. Roberts, Janesville, Wis., and test its merits. 1754sew-williams

"Dobbins' Electric Soap."

Having obtained the agency of this celebrated Soap for Janesville and vicinity, I append the opinion of some of our best people to its merits. I have washed with Dobbins' Electric Soap made by H. L. Dobbins & Co., Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and pronounce it the best soap I have ever used. The rapidity and ease with which it enables one to do one's washing is really surprising. The clothes are entirely unnecessary and no rubbing is needed. I would not be without it. NELLIE KENNISTON.

I have no hesitation in saying that no housekeeper should be without Dobbins' Electric Soap. I can heartily recommend it, it is a charm in the wash tub. ELIZA P. LEANDER.

As a time, labor and money saving article, I take pleasure in recommending Dobbins' Electric Soap to my neighbors. It promises, wonders and does all it promises. MARY YROMANA.

I take pleasure in calling attention to the testimonials, as we have just made arrangements with the manufacturers in Philadelphia, so that we can supply the trade at their lowest Philadelphia prices. GEORGE W. HAWES, Sole Agent.
